

Traveling with the Team

Lauren M. Simon¹ and Aaron L. Rubin²

¹Associate Professor, Department of Family Medicine, Director, Primary Care Sports Medicine, Loma Linda University School of Medicine, Loma Linda, CA; ²Program Director, Kaiser Permanente Sports Medicine Fellowship Program, Fontana, CA

SIMON, L.M., and A.L RUBIN. Traveling with the team. Curr. Sports Med. Rep., Vol. 7, No.3, pp. 138-143, 2008. The team physician may be asked to travel with the team to away venues. This takes special planning to provide for travel advice, proper immunizations, treatment of travel related diseases, appropriate planning for supplies, and care not to disturb any local laws and regulations. Increased security screening and limitations of what is allowed on the airplane in the cabin and in checked luggage have particularly affected air travel. Local laws, be they state or national, take precedence over the laws and regulations we are used to practicing under. Close relationships with the hosting team's medical staff can help mitigate many of the problems that may arise.

Address for correspondence: Lauren M. Simon. M.D., M.P.H., FACSM, Associate Professor, Department of Family Medicine, Director, Primary Care Sports Medicine. Loma Linda University School of Medicine, 25155 Barton Road Suite 209 B, Loma Linda, CA 92354 (E-mail: lstmon@llu.edu).

1537-890X/0703/138-143
Current Sports Medicine Reports
Copyright © 2008 by the American College of Sports Medicine